Brands + Products:

- Sales revenue is directly linked to the depth of brand partners (vendors) we showcase and retail on our websites
- We launched Design Milk ecommerce in late October with approximately 25 brand partners, which has grown to be 180 today
- We continue to refine the Design Milk assortment and rebuild the AHA + Kaufmann Mercantile from today's base
- Our target is a steady state of 300 vendors per website being constantly refreshed and rotated with new products

Costs:

- We have reduced customer acquisition costs between -50% and -75% vs. LY
- As we grow our product assortment across the three websites we anticipate a natural increase in healthy sales through our diversified and curated lifestyle approach
- Our Design Milk audience growth further supports cost effective customer acquisition

Operations:

- Our March revenue is trending towards delivering another month of positive growth in product sales across the sites
- However, we are extremely aware of the macro environment and are prepared with several layers of cost-saving actions depending on the severity of the Covid-19 crisis
- Our core strategy remains in place. We will continue to grow our product assortment to deliver engaging content and take additional creative steps to drive advertising and sales revenue
- We are accelerating several projects to support our brand / vendor partners and the broader design community
